REASONS

Why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is preferable to any other for the cure of Blood Diseases.

Because no poison or deleterious ingredients enter into the composition of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains only the purest and most effective remedial properties.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is prepared with extreme care, skill, and cleanliness.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is prescribed by leading physicians.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is for sale everywhere, and recommended by all first-class druggists.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a medicine,
and not a beverage in disguise.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla never fails to effect a cure, when persistently used, according to directions.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a highly concentrated extract, and therefore the most economical blood medicine in the market.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has had a successful career of nearly half a century, and is now as popular as at present.

Thousands of testimonials are on file from those benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

GANTER'S

—CHICKEN—
Cholera Cure!

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens die every year from Cholera. It is more fatal to chickens than all other diseases combined. But the cure has been made, and is so convinced of its efficacy only requires a trial. A 50-cent bottle is enough for one hundred chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two-thirds of a bottle, the buyer is not thoroughly satisfied with it as a cure for Chicken Cholera, return it to the manufacturer and get your money refunded.

PHYSICAL HEALTH.

The Usefulness of Many Games in Keeping the System in Good Condition.

The interest taken in this country in athletic sports may sometimes assume an exaggerated form, but it is not to be discouraged. The sound mind in the sound body is still the sensible maxim. The Greeks wisely taught the body in conjunction with intellectual pursuits, and the Germans owe a great debt to Frederick Ludwig Jahn for his physical training of Gymnasia.

The present greatness of Frisbie is largely owing to the Turner schools, although they were supposed at one time on the score of a tendency to therapeutic gymnastics.

The gymnastic spirit which has ever animated the English people has been kept alive by field sports and physical exercises generally, and the tendency to overstrain nervous organizations which the American Tho-matist superlatives can only be overcome by vigorous out-door habits or some gymnastic training. Walking, riding, shooting, swimming, base-ball, cricket, and tennis, in fact, all the outdoor sports, are useful in keeping up a lively and determined people.

Altogether, however, the tendency to maintain with their stout arms
the physical training of the English people is a good thing, and the tendency to overstrain nervous organizations which the American Tho-

THE CLIMAX.

FRENCH TIPTON, - - EDITOR.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY BY The Climax Printing Co.
Wm. G. WHITE, CHAS. S. POWELL.

PRICE PER YEAR, $1.50.
WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1889.

Ex-City Treasurer Louis Constans, of Newport, Ky., has been indicted for embezzling $35,000, and a charge of about $4,000 shortage is preferred against ex-City Clerk W. P. McClure.

Hon. Edward J. Gay, a Louisiana Congressman, died in New Orleans on Thursday. He defeated Wm. Pitt Kellogg in '84 and was re-elected in '86 and '88. He was worth nearly a million dollars.

The Republicans of Estill and Lee counties have nominated Hon. Robert C. Hill for the Legislature. He and Judge W. T. B. Williams will "make Rome howl" from now till August. "In all probability" Judge Williams will be the successful man.

Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, in an interview says: "Hon. Henry D. Melhew ought to succeed to the Chairmanship of the National Democratic Committee. Col. Melhew is now the senior member of the committee, and the expiration of his present term will have served twenty consecutive years."

By reason of the failure of the Democratic candidates to secure more than a plurality of votes in Rhode Island, the Legislature chose the following Republican officials: Governor, H. W. Ladd; Lieutenant Governor, D. H. Ladd; Secretary of State, S. H. Cross; Treasurer, Samuel Clark; all of whom received fewer votes than their Democratic opponents at the recent election.

President Harrison appointed Col. Beverley Tucker, of Virginia, as one of the commissioners to Hayti, and Col. Tucker was making the necessary preparations for his absence, when a few of the ultra-radical correspondents of the Radical press notified the President that they would make it hot for him if the appointment was allowed to stand. The President did not have enough backbone and manly courage to stand by his own actions and withdrew Colonel Tucker's name. When it comes to pack a few newspapers correspondents can run the head of the nation, it points to a change.

NOT UNEXPECTED.

The editor of the Winchester Democrat gives up and goes to blubbering and boo-hooing, and rubbing his dirty paws into his eyes. Next time he will know the CLIMAX is loaded. He whines about "legitimate discussion," when he has not discussed anything—simply made a lot of false assertions, which he retracts in a paragraph found elsewhere in today's CLIMAX.

HE SINGS A NEW SONG.

The subjoined editorial paragraph from the Winchester Democrat is entirely different from its blood and thunder assertions and denunciations of recent date. It says:

"The Louisville Southern has a large force at work, between Nicholasville and Richmond, and is evidently, from what we saw and learned at Irvine, in condition to go to Beattyville."

FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

If Western Kentucky with her strong Democratic majority will unite on a candidate for Senator and all pull together for him, there is not a doubt but we can secure the plum. Upon our vote depends the election. Then let us decide among ourselves, and having put forth a man demand the support of the other sections, and we will get it, for they know our strength and power. Hon. James A. McKenzie will be a candidate unless something unforeseen occurs, and we could do no better than give him our support. There is probably not a county in this end of the State but would stand by him, and if that is done he will be our next Senator—Hopkinsville New Era.

Quinine Jim is too tight timber to make a Senator out of. He is made more after the fashion of "Frothy Joe" whom he seeks to succeed. Kentucky wants something more solid and substantial than either of them—a man with steady habits, an unexcited brain and calm judgment. "We can afford to send skyrockets and bladders to the Lower House, but when it comes to successors, to Henry Clay and John J. Crittenden, the State will look higher, and be more choice in the selection of Blackburn's successor," Kentucky Register.

Kentucky has no better man for the place than Gov. James B. McCreary. He is solid, sober, honest, industrious, cool and capable, and, according to the practical law of mechanics, having served an apprenticeship on every step of the political ladder from the Kentucky Legislature to the U. S. Senate, deserves the position: his eminent success in private business, long experience in State affairs and recognized ability in Congress fulfill the political qualifications. Although McCreary never pulled Ben Chandler's ear, or took 40 grains of Quinine, he has secured for Kentucky Democrats more favorable places than any two Congressmen in the State.

FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE AND MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN PROPERTY DESTROYED IN A FLOOD.

The most awful destruction of human life and property that ever occurred in North America occurred at Johnstown, Pennsylvania, and vicinity, on last Friday night and Saturday.

A heavy rain, began falling on Thursday night, and by Friday evening the entire country was experiencing an unusual heavy flow of waters. Above Johnstown on the Conemaugh river, at the mouth of South Fork, existed a dam a mile across from one mountain to another and a hundred feet high. It formed a lake three or four miles back across a mile or two wide. That dam gave way and flooded the valley, sending down a wall of water twenty or thirty feet high that carried away everything before it, including several towns, before Johnstown was reached.

The people of Johnstown were telegraphed that dire danger threatened them, but they and their families fled to the hills. The dam was giving way, and the great majority heeded not the warning. The flood came, but instead of fleeing to the hills, the people went up stairs, and when the raging waters swept through the city, surrounding the houses, escape was scarcely possible. Residences, business houses, factories and other structures washed away like chips and carried their contents down to rapid destruction. Fifteen hundred houses were hurried off into the roaring flood. Men, women and children were everywhere struggling in the torrent. Clinging to all kind of wreckage, they were borne away to be finally drowned, or to die of exhaustion and exposure. Now and then a house was rescued down the raging Conemaugh, but where one was saved a hundred were not.

As the flood advanced it devastated other towns. The banks of the river were soon strewn with the dead, like drift-wood; and the water's surface was covered with every conceivable thing from a house with its human and other contents to the smallest isolated pile—store-houses filled with goods, lively stables with their horses, cars with their cargoes, pianos, barrels of whisky, kegs of beer, boxes of goods, trunks, furniture, and all else that human beings possess, went madly rushing down the Conemaugh into the Kiskiminitas, and on into the Allegheny, and on Sunday, wreckage containing dead bodies passed Pittsburgh and into the Ohio. One 13-year-old boy was rescued alive at Pittsburgh.

The city of Johnstown is an utter ruin. The houses that were not carried away were removed from their foundations and many of them overturned, so that every house in the city of twenty thousand people will need re-building. Millions of dollars' worth of property, including bread, where stood edifices on Friday, there was a bed of gravel or a pool of water on Saturday. Happy families of Friday were memories on Saturday.

To add horror upon horror, hundreds of houses containing human beings lodged against a strong bridge and took fire. Several hundred people were roasted to death in the midst of the roaring waters. Railroads and all other roads were washed out and telegraph lines destroyed. All communication was cut off, starvation and want came apace, no human being can conceive of the terror of Friday night, Saturday and Sunday in the flooded country.

Johnstown is situated on the Pennsylvania Central Railway at the foot of the Allegheny mountains. On Sunday temporary repairs were completed, and several trains were sent up from Pittsburgh. And what odd cargoes those trains carried—three thousand coffins, a detachment of militia, a carload of police, hundreds of tents, and thousands of pounds of food. The terrorized and hungry remnants of the population could not maintain order. Robbers set systematically to robbing the dead. The river banks were haunted by friends who stripped the lifeless bodies of money, watches and jewels. One man was found with a baby's finger in his pocket containing a tiny ring, and straightway was hung up to a limb. Another thief was bending over the body of a woman in the edge of the water, taking her jewelry when he was shot, fell headlong into the water and washed away. Several others were lynched.

There were fifteen thousand strangers at Johnstown on Sunday. Long trenches are being dug, and the victims are placed side by side as rapidly as brought in. A memorial day will be held some day. But weeks must elapse before the several hundred miles of river will give up their dead, and the actual number perished will never be known. A volume, like unto the Bible, would scarcely record the incidents of this great-tragedy.

Ashtabula and Troy Bridge sink into utter insignificance beside Johnstown and the neighboring unfortunate towns of South Fork, Mineral Point, Conemaugh, Cambria, Sherman and Sang Hollow.

Money, food and clothing is pouring in from all parts of the country. The Junista, the Susquehanna, the Potomac and the James have overflowed their banks, and the loss of property has been great. The loss of life is simply appalling. It is perhaps a low estimate to say that five thousand people perished, and hundreds have died of exposure and fright.

Mrs. Showers, married only three months, was shot to death in her room at the Showers hotel, Elizabethtown, one morning last week. She was Miss Lena Moore, a pretty and popular girl of that place, who had many admirers. Somebody ought to be hung.

THE VODOON CURE.

The various "cures," such as the water cure, faith cure, and Christian science cure, are supplemented in Louisiana by the Vodoun cure, which was thought to have been extinct. One day last week, in New Orleans, the police raided a house and arrested eight white and six colored women, who, partially disrobed, were singing weird songs around a half-breed man, who, in silken tights, was performing a strange wild dance. The women were allowed to arrange their toilets, and when taken to the "lock-up," explained that no immorality was meant—that it was necessary to expose the diseased parts, and that the Vodoun doctor could not cure them without such exposure. The women were respectable, but were fined $2.50 each and the doctor $25.

Adherents of Schweinfurth, who believe in the "Garden of Eden test," should fight shy of New Orleans.

DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS UNITE TO BOUNCE A BLOODY SHIRT.

A telegram from Ft. Smith on the 30th, Decoration Day, tells of a lively time there:

The ladies of Fort Smith, both wives and daughters of Federal and Confederate, were out in large numbers laden with flowers, with which, as usual to decorate the graves of the heroic dead who lie buried in our National Cemetery, irrespective of the side on which they fought.

Hon. Thomas H. Barnes, a prominent lawyer of this city, was orator of the day. He made a patriotic speech, which was listened to with pleasure and profit by a large assemblage. After he had finished speaking, Hon. Mr. Kelly, of Kansas, a stranger to the people here, was introduced, and probably no people assembled upon such an occasion, amid such surroundings, ever listened to such a speech.

Among other things he said, in substance: "The State of Arkansas is in dispute. Contrades Benjamin and because they were loyal to the flag of their country. The eyes of the entire country are upon Arkansas."

He said his State Legislature had passed resolutions denouncing Arkansas and calling upon the National Government to protect the people, even if it had to put it under martial law, and then continued: "I am a Congressman, and, comrades, I will see that you are protected, if my influence and power can affect it, even if we have to resort to martial law."

The indignation and contempt of our citizens at the remarkable speech of Mr. Kelly culminated in a large but spontaneous meeting at the court house at 2 p. m. It was composed of both Republican and Democrats, and resolutions were reported by a committee composed of two Republicans and one Democrat, two of whom were Federal soldiers and members of the G. A. R.

L. P. Grady, a Republican and a Federal soldier, and a member of the G. A. R., was called to the chair, when the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: "Whereas, Hon. Mr. Kelly, of Kansas, an entire stranger, has this day disgraced alike the Republican party and insulted our people by coming to the graves of our national dead in a bitter partisan speech, denouncing the people of Arkansas as a lawless people, and incapable of self-government, and threatening them with his influence, as a member of Congress, to put the State under martial law, and

"Whereas, Mr. Kelly has a son living in this city, who is a part owner of the Republican paper of Fort Smith and who knows, unless he is now composed of such charges and insinuations are false, and that the laws of Arkansas are as rigidly enforced as any State of this Union, therefore be it

Resolved, That this meeting, composed of Democrats and Republicans, denounce the speech of Mr. Kelly as not only false, but upon such a sacred occasion, in a haste that could, it is to be hoped, exempt from no part of the audience counting except from a State whose Legislature made such a disgraceful show of itself in the resolution of which Mr. Kelly boasted so largely to-day.

Resolved, That we hereby tender Hon. Thomas H. Barnes, of this city, a well-known Republican, our high appreciation of his patriotic address, in which he distinguished himself in contrast with that of Mr. Kelly.

"Thomas Marum, J. P. Grady, Thomas B. Latham, Committee."

CONCERNING FARMERS.

Lambs in Mercer county 51 to 55 cents.

Yearling heifers in Lincoln county, 21 cents.

Col. J. W. Guest, of Danville, Ky., former owner of Terra Cotta and a breeder of many fine horses, has been having hard luck at the races. He has lost steadily without a single streak of good fortune.

"They are holding a protracted meeting in my wife's church and I have telegraphed her to hold it over until I can get home. I'm going to quit for good and all,"—Cincinnati Commercial.

In an editorial item, the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette of Sunday last says: "Dr. Wickers, an Austrian expert, who has been visiting the agricultural colleges and stock farms in our South and West, says the Kentucky horses are the finest in the world. The enthusiastic doctor should be lording about the stables and track at Louisville about this time. But he would see the same sights as any visitor to the country. Kentucky horses, like Kentucky whiskey, are to be found almost anywhere in Uncle Sam's dominions—Stock Farm.

The heaviest winners at the Louisville race were Spokane, who in two races, the Derby and Clark Stakes, knocked down $3,650 in round numbers for his owner, honest Noah Armstrong. The second heaviest winner was Budget, with $1,003 to his credit. Jewel Boy, in one race, won out $3,440, while Fairy Queen took away $2,030 for Farmer Souly. Penn P. took off $2,005, while Strideaway secured $1,500 and Master Owlwell captured one stake, $1,445. Bravo won heavier than any other except the state horses, winning four races and $1,320.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy and medicinal merit.

The Republicans charge the Democrats with covering up Tate's assassinations, and then nominate for Tate's successor one of the three commissioners appointed by the Governor to audit Tate's accounts and lay all the facts before the world. Did Mr. Barrett cover anything up in his report?—Louisville Times.

Mrs. E. M. Leavelle died of consumption at her residence, four miles from this city, on last Friday night, in the 70th year of her age. Her remains were buried in the Lancaster cemetery on Sunday afternoon. She was the widow of the late Edward Leavelle, and mother of Louis Y. Leavelle.—Lancaster News.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until a new remedy was discovered, it was incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure it with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a Constitutional Disease, therefore requires Constitutional Treatment. HALL'S CATHARTIC CURE, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional Cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for Circulars and Testimonials.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

By Glover & Barrett, Louisville Tobacco Sales on our market for the past week just closed amount to 1975 bbls, with receipts for the same period 2245 bbls. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 52,829 bbls. Sales of the crop of 1888, to date amount to 27,273 bbls.

Since our report of a week ago the whole State has been favored with copious rains and in many localities a considerable per cent of the crop is already on the hill. The early part of this week developed a weaker market for the very common grades of tobacco but the market has rallied in the last few days from this decline and we do not find it necessary to make any change in our quotations of a week ago except to raise the outside limit on select tobacco, one long-leaf of the 1888 crop having sold for $22.00 per 100 this week which is the highest price of the year.

The following quotations fairly represent our market on Burley tobacco: Trash (Dark) and damaged tobacco $3.50 to $4.50. Colony Trash $5.50 to $6.50. Common Lugs not sold, $5.00 to $7.00. Colony Lugs, $5.50 to $10.00. Common Leaf, $3.00 to $12.00. Medium to good leaf, $13.00 to $18.00. Select or wrap-leaf, $15.00 to $22.00.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given it this medicinal popularity and sale greater than that of any other preparation of its kind.

Merit Wins. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. It is made by J. C. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Great Upheaval Has Taken Place!

H. J. STRENG HAS BEEN EXPECTING IT FOR SOME LITTLE TIME!

And was prepared for it! And has taken advantage of it! The backward and cold spring placed many large houses in such a position that they had more goods on hand than they ought to have had, and they wanted to get rid of them. They had to be sold. We waited for an opportunity. It came in the shape of

At the re-union of the Hamilton College Miss Nannie Harcourt, of this place, was chosen to address the graduating class of Hamilton College.

S. D. Parrish sold three lots in the Park addition on Saturday—two to Green M. Millett, $750; one to Dr. Roberts, $500; to D. H. Myers, $500.

Mr. C. H. Figg has bought the other half of the Figg property on West Main street, near city limits, and now owns the entire property. Price $3,500.

Elliott Institute commencement exercises tomorrow in the Christian church at Kirkville. Rev. Dr. Hamilton, of Richmond, will deliver the address.

The thermometer dropped to 45 at midnight, last Thursday, and ranged from 45 to 48 through Friday. Two to four inches of snow fell in Michigan on Thursday.

The largest strawberry bed in the country is that of Elder & Thompson at Berea. They have ten thousand plants, and have sold twelve hundred yards in Richmond, this season.

Middle Breddell has been earnestly requested to repeat the operatic concert, during commencement week, but there seems to be a doubt as to whether the Court House can be obtained at that time.

William J. Searing, a Deputy Collector in the New York Custom service, was requested to resign to make room for Harry Stansfield, a nephew of Secretary Blaine, who was appointed the day before.

There will be an excursion from Lexington to the Mammoth Cave on June 18th for the benefit of the Broadway Christian church, at $5 for the round trip. For further information inquire of Mrs. C. P. Williamson.

The sale of seven lots advertised in last issue of THE CLIMAX for Wednesday, resulted as follows: Two lots on East Avenue to H. B. Dillingham, $625; one lot corner Madison and Avenue to W. A. B. Russell, $310; one lot opposite to G. W. Maupin, $381; one lot on Hillside to J. A. Higgins, $295; lot adjoining to W. H. Sims, $350.

Court Day.
A good crowd, but no stock of consequence. A few mules sold at good prices. A heavy rain began at 10:30 with the thermometer at 60, and continued till noon.

Shot.
Dudley Sams was shot by James Hill, Monday afternoon in Richmond. Sams' arm was broken by the shot. Both men were arrested and gave bail. They live at, or near, Union City.

Strawberry Suppers.
The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will give a strawberry supper from 6:30 to 10 o'clock, to-night in the vacant store house on Main street, opposite new hotel. Admission 25 cents.

The W. C. T. U. ladies of Kirkville will give a strawberry supper to-morrow evening from 5 to 11 o'clock.

Killed by a Car.
John McTherson was killed at Fort Estill Monday afternoon. He was a brakeman on the inter-train that left Richmond at 2:30 for Livingston. While switching cars at Fort Estill, the tops being wet, he slipped and fell from the top of a freight car, and it ran over him. The remains were taken to Stanford. He was probably 30 years old and unmarried.

For State Senator.
Col. Tom J. Ballard, of Rockcastle county, is announced in 10-days CLIMAX as a candidate for the State Senate, from the district comprising Madison, Estill and Rockcastle counties. Col. Ballard is a native of Madison, has many relatives and friends here, and ought to carry the county in the regular election without any trouble. He says he is certain of his own vote, and he is sure there will be no close thing about it. The election is only thirty days away, and the wheels of the Democratic machine ought to be revolving, and that rapidly. Col. Ballard is a popular man and would make a good Senator.

Must Refrain.
Some weeks ago we mentioned that the State Railroad Commission had visited Lancaster, and heard complaints of coal dealers and heard complaints of the Kentucky Central for exorbitant freight charges. The Commission's report was published on last week's paper. It holds that the railroad must refund to various parties in Lancaster certain specified amounts, to-wit: To J. Wesley West, $1,725.35; to Attorney's fee and costs; to H. A. Warren, $1,412; and $25 attorney's fee and costs; to Ward K. Bro. $197.97; and $25 attorney's fee and costs. The claim of Warren is to be barred by limitation.

Commencement Week, Berea College.

Friday, June 14, 7:30 P. M.—Anniversary of the Literary Society; Saturday, June 15, 2:00 P. M. Musical Recital; Sunday, June 16, 11:00 A. M.—Baccalaureate Service; Sunday, June 16, 7:30 P. M.—Address before Y. M. C. A., Monday, June 17, 7:30 P. M.—Address before Literary Society; Tuesday, June 18, 7:30 P. M.—Alumni Meeting; Wednesday, June 19, 9:30 A. M.—Commencement Exercises. Address by Ex-Gov. Will Campbell, of Indiana.

George O. Barnes.
This well-known evangelist preached in the Court House, Sunday afternoon, to a large audience. His subject was "God is Love and Nothing Else." He seems not to have changed his doctrine any since his last visit to Lexington, evidently not so good, for he looks tired and worn. He continues to part his hair in the middle and wear side whiskers. His coat is a long gray one, buttoned from the collar down. He lectured Monday and Tuesday nights.

Of Course It Ended.
A paragraph is going the rounds of the press to the effect that the ancient Hill and Evans feud in Garrard county is settled, because Drs. Hill and Evans passed each other on the turnpike, and Hill spoke to Evans. To our certain knowledge, information and belief, nobody has been killed on account of that old antebellum trouble for more than twenty years, and Dr. Hill is not nearly eighty old. That item was intended for some edition of George D. Prentice's Journal.

All Decorated.
In every cemetery in the country where soldiers of the late war lie buried, the people gathered yesterday to pay annual tribute to their memory, in the South, where those who fought on opposite sides are buried near each other, there was a union of the friends of both. At the tomb of Gen. Grant, Sheridan, Logan and Meade the services were elaborate. The weather generally was unfavorable to outdoor exercises.—Courier-Journal May 31st.

Richmond forgot the day, or the dead?
For County Clerk.

By reference to the announcement column, you will see that Mr. Joe Oldham, of Union City, is a candidate for County Clerk. He is a Democrat from away back, and has never asked for an office. He has always worked for the party's cause, and Union precinct never fails to roll up a rousing Democratic majority. The precinct has had little in the way of a good man since the death of the oldest man in the county, Mr. Oldham would make a good clerk, and asks you to carefully consider his claims. He is a descendant of the old pioneer Oldham who was in the fort with Boone.

The Humbuggery.
Dr. C. S. Holton attended the annual meeting of the Homoeopathic Society at Lexington on last Wednesday and Thursday. There was a large attendance and numbers of interesting papers were read. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. L. Monroe, Louisville; Vice President, J. A. Vansant, Mt. Sterling; Secretary, E. B. Johns, Danville; Treasurer, M. Delis, Carlisle; Board of Censors, J. A. Lucy, J. F. Edgar, O. H. Buck.

The President in his address read statistics of various ailments, and in a comparison between the Homoeopathic and Allopathic treatment was favorable to the former.

Forgotten, Yet Perfect.
The remains have recently been transferred from the old Presbyterian burying ground in Lexington. The Transcriber relates the following:
"A grave was opened while the reporter was on the ground, and a fine metallic coffin was lifted to the surface. The earth which clung to it was brushed off, the plate uncovered, and there was exposed to view the well preserved waxen face of a woman. We look around through the gathering crowd for some one of those hearts, not less than that he had gone down with her into that grave, and there was not one to be found. She was forgotten, and there was no one who she lay forgotten, and yet her form had not faded away, nor its attire lost its freshness."

A body sometimes remains intact for ages. In the chapel of St. Edmund in Westminster Abbey is the tomb of Edward the Great, and composed of five pieces, like a long box. The king died in 1067. The records of the Abbey show that "this tomb was opened in 1724, by permission of Dr. Thomas, the dean of Westminster granted to the Society of Antiquaries, a deputation of whom, with the Dean, attended the princeps."

The body was perfect, and there was no decay, and the face was as fresh as a flower, and the former of crimson velvet, a sceptre in each hand, measuring near five feet; a crown on his head, and many jewels; he measured six feet two inches." Thus it will be seen that a body may remain perfect as the one above described did, nearly five hundred years.

Our Old Man Deceased.
Last week, when we wrote up our ancient colored friend, Emmanuel Oldham, 112 years of age, we thought no one could be found near so old. But strange to say, on the same day, we learned that one of our sketch, there died near Louisville, Mrs. Fannie Dewese, aged 116 years. She was buried here her husband who died twelve years ago, at the age of 107 years. It was noticed that the old lady's grand-children who attended the burial, were all gray-haired, and the great-grand-children had been born to the children. Just before the husband died, the couple celebrated the 33rd anniversary of their marriage. Mrs. Dewese recollected the day when her father returned from the Revolutionary war. She was married in 1798, and in that year removed to Kentucky, and resided on her father's farm, where she died. They were wealthy people and leave a good estate.

Instances of rare longevity are not so unusual as one might think. The oldest man in modern times, of whom we have any knowledge, was Thomas Parr, whose tomb is yet to be seen in the "Blue Corner" of Westminster Abbey, near the tomb of Charles Dickens, Macaulay and Samuel Johnson. "Thomas Parr, of the county of Salop, born 1783, who lived in the reign of the ten princesses, viz: Edward IV., Edward V., Richard III., Henry VIII., Henry VI., Edward VI., Mary I., and Elizabeth I. He died November 13th, 1655, at the age of 152. We should like to see that nothing but facts would be permitted of record in the Abbey. Certainly nobility, and of great genius find a resting place in that celebrated old church."

The News is informed by the clever agent, Mr. Dawson, that during the past month the railroad business at the office here surpassed that of any previous month. The tonnage was a third greater than that at Harrodsburg, and the local ticket business was $200 greater than for the neighbor city—Lawrenceburg News.

Mrs. Forman's School.

Thursday and Friday were the two days devoted to the examination of classes and the awarding of prizes in Mrs. Forman's school, the last being the closing day. The ten-year-old class in French evidenced great proficiency, considering their tender years. An older class in botany showed much study, and their books presented skillful work, as all the flowers are sketched in pencil or water colors. The history classes gave an outline of American history from the beginning to the present time. There were two classes in English composition. The books containing the compositions for the season had been examined by committees, and the best works selected without any knowledge of whose compositions they were. For one class, Mrs. Barbour, Miss Logan and Miss Henry were the committee. They decided that for merit of composition, the fictitious name which moved to Anne Belle Harber was entitled to the prize; for penmanship and spelling, Sallie Tevis. The committee mentioned that Emma Middleton was a close contestant; and Miss Ruth Crook, the teacher of that department, thought Little Miller deserved special mention for her excellent class. Mrs. W. H. Miller, Mrs. Jason Walker and Mrs. J. A. G. Williamson were the committee. They decided in favor of Willie Denny and Mable Terrill, with the remark that Bessie Hart was a close contestant. The prizes were silver cups engraved with name of donor.

Mrs. Forman will leave at once for Boston and other points East, where, during the summer, she will study the art of teaching, taking a course at Harvard. Her school will re-open in September.

RELIGIOUS.
There were four immersions at the Baptist church, Sunday night.

Thirty-seven ministers were graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, on last Thursday.

Rev. E. Forman, D. D., preached on Sunday before last to the church at Clay City, recently organized by Dr. Guerrant.

Editor Thomas shot merchant Elmore at Caseyville. Thomas's father preached Elmore's funeral, and a thousand persons were present.

Rev. Dr. Wm. M. Pratt has retired from the pastorate to push the endowment fund of Georgetown College. All ready over $100,000 additional have been raised.

Rev. Thomas Cummins, of Vicksburg, was called by the First Presbyterian church, Sunday. The gentleman occupied a high position at the recent General Assembly of the Presbyterian church at Chattanooga. His two sermons in Richmond, two weeks ago, so pleased the congregation that he was called.

Denominational schools will be discussed in the National Educational Association, in Nashville, July 17th, by Rev. John J. Keene, of Washington, D. C., and His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore. The same day Edwin D. Hoar, of Boston, and Hon. George F. Mead, of the U. S. Senate, will discuss the question, "Has the Denominational School a Proper Place in America."

Berea.
Miss Jessie Osborne has returned to her home in Geneva, Ohio.

Miss Florence Terrill has returned from her school at Midway.

The public square is being enclosed with a new and substantial board fence.

Mrs. Rosa Byzar, from Cincinnati, is visiting at her father's, Mr. Reuben Preston.

Mrs. Nebo, from Indiana, has come to spend some weeks with her aunt, Mrs. C. Lester.

J. C. Davis has improved his house by putting on a porch with a fine balcony above it.

The lawn party given by Prof. Wright, to the members of his classes, was a very pleasant and delightful affair.

Rev. M. Grider, from College Hill, will deliver a lecture at the regular temperance meeting on Tuesday night next.

C. M. Rawlings is making quite an extended trip in the Southern counties of the State, with headquarters at Glasgow.

Mr. Fred McCallum has "pitched his tent" near the stores where he receives with pleasure all who wish to have their "pictures" taken.

A migrating photographic car, accompanied by Mr. Greer, the proprietor, is located on the green. Mr. Greer is already finding work in his art.

A heavy rain interfered with the lawn social Principal Hunting planned for his classes, but Mrs. Hunting was equal to the emergency and a very cozy enjoyable time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Fee had a narrow escape on Wednesday night last. As they were returning from prayer meeting, in the darkness, they inadvertently stepped off the edge of the foot bridge and fell several feet. Fortunately they escaped with only flesh bruises.

We hope that Middle Breddell will be able to secure the Court House during next week, as there will be many visitors and it will be a good opportunity to offer them a musical feast. A full house will crown the effort if it is made.

DIED.
Mrs. James Rybee died near Waco, Madison county, Ky., on Tuesday, June 4th, 1889. Burial at College Hill.

Mrs. Sally Warren died in Richmond, Ky., on Tuesday morning, June 4th, 1889. Deceased was a sister of the late John Bates, and formerly lived in Mississippi. Burial in Richmond cemetery to-day.

Mrs. Jennie C. Millon, wife of Dr. J. D. Millon, White Hall, died on Thursday, May 30th, 1889. The funeral was held at the home of her father, Joseph Kennedy, near old Paint Lick church in Garrard county, on Friday. She was married only last January.

Mrs. Eliza Owens Schmidt, wife of L. O. Schmidt, died in Richmond, Ky., on Friday morning, April 30th, 1889, after an illness of several months with cancer of the stomach. Deceased was a native of Lexington, and a member of the Catholic church. Interment in Richmond cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Don't Get Caught.
This spring with your full bill of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—put yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

The hemp burns of George & Brown and James M. Layton, in Garrard county, were burned the same night.

THIN COLUMN.

Mr. Elementary Campbell was arrested near Campion, Wolf county, last week for "shining."

What is the difference between an artillery house and the house Artillery? About $50,875.

Mr. S. E. Tipton thinks that the blasting in the city quarry nearly seventy-five yards from his citizens, caused the big leak which has broken out, and thinks that some one has also tapped the big spring leading to his well.—Paris News.

We don't believe a word of it. Tip is in need of an excuse for ordering a keg of beer.

General R. M. Gano wrote a letter some time since, stating that his great-grandfather baptized George Washington by immersion in the Potomac River. Recently he has written again saying the word Potomac must have been a slip of memory, and that the immersion took place in "the Hudson River near Valley Forge." The General will have to pick his flint and try it again, as Valley Forge and Hudson River are about 100 miles apart.

The Estill Eagle screams as follows: "Sweeping is a disagreeable and unprofitable habit. There is no occasion for wearing outside of a printing office, where it may be useful in proof reading and occasionally in getting forms to press. It has been known also to materially assist the editor in looking over the paper after it is printed. But it is more useful to the compositor in setting up bad manuscript than any one else. Otherwise it is a foolish and wicked habit."
